Networking Event for Nurses
Speakers & Discussion

Managing long-term health conditions while homeless

17 June 2015 // 10am-4pm // Central London

This event in Central London will bring together community nurses, patients and commissioners with the goal of developing a better understanding of managing long-term health conditions for people who are homeless.

It will explore various long-term health conditions such as Diabetes, Epilepsy and COPD. It will explore the range of resources available to community nurses. Community nurses will share successful projects that support homeless and vulnerable people.

The event will hear about national health policy drivers and innovative commissioning to ensure long-term health needs are addressed and tackled.

This event is run by The Queen's Nursing Institute and funded by the Monument Trust.
